“

We recently had 2 new bathrooms designed and installed by Wickes. From the first point of enquiry the service was excellent and friendly, with our design consultant coming out to do the home visit and designs. I had been looking for somewhere that would be able to complete the whole service from start to finish and our Design Consultant made the process very easy. Our installers were also very professional, creating minimal upheaval and keeping the areas tidy as they worked. The work took place when they said it would and was exactly to schedule. Well done and thank you!

“

Disabled bathroom conversion from outdated, poorly designed and hard to maintain wet room into a modern bathroom with a walk-in shower, comfort toilet, large vanity unit, extractor fan, downlights, fully tiled walls and wood floor etc suitable for a disabled person with very limited mobility. Excellent design and professional installation.

“

From the moment we walked in and spoke to our Design Consultant to the end - your customer service is impeccable! Treating customers like people rather than a number. We are so thrilled and will 100% be recommending Wickes to everyone we know. You have all been truly amazing and we can't thank you enough! Bathroom fitter was the most professional, hardworking and polite chap - absolute pleasure to have in our home.

Some things you may need to know...

What type of fan do I need?

Axial Fans: Traditionally fitted into the wall or ceiling and ducted straight through an external wall.

In-line Fans: Usually ducted through loft space or ceiling cavity and out via an external wall.

How loud will the extractor fan be?

All Sensio fans have a low decibel (dB) range of 30dB-40dB. This is the equivalent of a whisper or rustling leaves.

What size fan do I need?

The airflow of a fan determines its suitability for the space in which it will be fitted. First calculate the volume of the room: Height x Width x Length to get the total m³. Then multiply this by 4 (average air changes per hour in a bathroom).

This will determine the total airflow per hour your fan needs to be (m³/hr).
