Product Description:

Proguard Demolition Film is a heavy-duty film with a high-power adhesive backing, specially designed to prevent glass shards from flying whilst removing glass panels from windows and doors by holding them in place as they are being broken. The adhesive is specifically formulated to adhere to glass, and is difficult to remove, so should only be applied to glass you intend to remove and replace. It is also coloured yellow to differentiate it from the other, easily removable films in the Proguard range

Benefits:

- Self-adhesive for easy application – no taping required.
- easy-to-handle rolls.
- High tear & puncture resistance.
- Easy to cut with a knife.
- Forward wound to keep the adhesive clean in storage
- Ultra-strong adhesive holds glass shards in situ until desired.

Limitations:

- Non removable

Application:

Ensure surfaces to which Proguard Demolition Film is to be applied are clean, dust free and dry. Unwind approx. 600mm of material and stick this to the top of the window pulling the roll down towards the floor. Ensure the roll is stuck by smoothing out by hand. Simply pull the roll down towards the floor ensuring it goes in a straight line. Smooth out with hands as it unwinds.
